Fall Flavors and Family Fun Await All at the City Market

KANSAS CITY, MO– Fall is a great time to visit the City Market Farmers' Market for produce and family fun! Farmers' Market vendors and City Market merchants continue to offer an extensive selection of produce, flowers, food and gift items throughout the fall season. Shop for farm fresh local produce and pick up recipes as well as tasty samples courtesy of the University of Missouri Extension.

Fresh from the farm, find fall yard decorations including pumpkins in a variety of shapes, colors and sizes as well as gourds, mums, Indian corn, cornstalks and hay bales at the City Market Pumpkin Patch. The City Market Pumpkin Patch will be open Saturdays and Sundays from 8:00 am – 3:00 pm September 26 through October 31.

Harvest Festival Packed Full of Family Fun

The popular City Market Festival Series continues into October with the Harvest Festival, Saturday, October 3. The day will be packed full of fun, so 'round up the kids and head to the City Market.

Enjoy an old fashioned hayride through the River Market and admire the beautiful architecture in this historic neighborhood. Kids and adults can take part in pumpkin seed spitting and a grape stomp while kids can participate in musical hay bales, pumpkin bowling and pumpkin soccer activities. Jam to the lively tunes of local musicians, listen to Mother Nature share her whimsical stories and get creative with several art projects with Wonderscope Children's Museum.

City Market will be accepting both perishable and non-perishable food items on behalf of Harvesters at the information booth from 8:00 am – 2:00 pm so when shopping, please consider those in need and make a donation.
